About Longwood Gardens

Our Gardens are a living expression of all that our founder, Pierre S. du Pont, found inspiring, meaningful, and beautiful. From the intricate fountain systems to the meticulous gardens to the architectural grandeur, awe-inspiring discoveries await at every turn.

Years before it was a public garden, the land on which Longwood Gardens stands was home to the native Lenni Lenape tribe and Quaker farmers. Since then, the land has undergone significant transformation to become the magnificent property that is enjoyed by more than a million guests each year.

Guided Garden Tour

Explore highlights of Longwood's diverse gardens while learning about our history, as well as plans for our future. Designed to tell the story of how one man's vision turned Longwood into the world's premier horticultural display garden, this tour includes the horticultural highlights of any season.
